IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

ISAR is pleased to announce that beginning on Sunday, February 8, 2009 our organization will be one of the sponsors of a new nationally-heard radio show entitled "Animals Today." It will be broadcast on Knews Radio, from California's Coachella Valley, a station on which Dr. Laura and Sean Hannity, among others, can be heard.

Hosted by Dr. Lori Kirshner, founder of Southern California's Desert PAWS foundation, "Animals Today" will entertain, enlighten, and even challenge listeners by addressing a variety of contemporary animal-related topics. Through Dr. Kirshner's commentaries, interviews with experts, and responses to phone-ins, listeners will be exposed to some of today's most interesting and important issues relating to animals, both domestic and wild.

"Animals Today's" inaugural program will be on Sunday, February 8, 2009 from 2:00 to 4:00 PM Pacific Daylight Savings Time.

In the first segment (2:00 - 3:00 PM), Dr. Kirshner will interview Professor Henry Mark Holzer, long-time chairman of ISAR and founder of the animal rights law movement - a man who has been called by Joyce Tischler, President of the Animal Legal Defense Fund, the "first animal rights lawyer" (see <http://sjalp.stanford.edu/>).

Dr. Kirshner and Professor Holzer, author of ISAR's monograph The Policy, Law and Morality of Mandatory Spay/Neuter, will be discussing one of today's most important issues, ameliorating the horrendous problem of companion animal overpopulation through mandatory spay/neuter.

Future programs will feature interviews with experts from such organizations as Animal Legal and Historical Web Center, Bighorn Institute, Coachella Valley

Wild Bird Center, Animal Legal Defense Fund. Dr. Kirshner's guests will include lawyers, behaviorists, teachers, ornithologists, veterinarians, rescuers, judges, writers, and many others.

Thanks to current technology, "Animals Today" can be heard throughout the world by anyone with access to a computer because the Southern California radio station on which the program appears will "stream" it. Streaming means a radio broadcast can be heard on the Internet while simultaneously being broadcast over the airwaves.

To hear "Animals Today" over the Internet at 2:00-4:00 PM Pacific Daylight Savings Time, turn on your computer and be sure the sound is at an acceptable level. Open your web browser (e.g., aol, Yahoo) and carefully type in the address bar www.knewsradio.com, and then click to open that address. The Knews radio website will appear. On the top of the page, click "Listen Live." A new box will appear and the program will begin at the appropriate time. (Listeners may be asked to register, but doing so is optional and registration is not necessary to hear the show.)

"Animals Today's" toll-free call-in telephone number while the program is being broadcast is: 1-888-589-6397. (The station recommends calling from a land-based telephone rather than a cell phone.)

Arrangements are being made so that after programs have been broadcast live, they can be heard on the "Animals Today" website, www.animalstodayradio.com. As soon as access information is available, we will provide it.

Through this E-Newsletter, ISAR will make available monthly broadcast schedules for "Animals Today." To be kept informed, please add your contact information at http://www.isaronline.org/contact_us.html.

ISAR has become a sponsor of "Animals Today" because we believe that a serious nationwide (indeed, international) program addressing important contemporary animal issues has become a moral imperative.

We personally know the folks involved in this program, and we know their dedication to animals is profound.

Thus, ISAR will do everything in our power to help "Animals Today" succeed, and we earnestly solicit the assistance of those of you who believe as we do.

Please forward this important announcement to as many individuals and lists as you can, asking the recipients to do the same.

ISAR has linked to the "Animals Today Radio" website (www.isaronline.org) and we ask those who support the program to do the same. (A word to potential sponsors: Please note that advertising rates for "Animals Today" are very reasonable, given that the program can be heard by anyone having access to a computer. As a famous broadcaster said for many years, "See you on the radio."

Among the many blessings of the Internet is the phenomenon called the "Weblog"--- or "Blog" for short.

Originally mostly a vehicle for the expression of the author's personal views on any subject that interested him, Blogs have evolved into a means for organizations such as ISAR to communicate with its supporters and others who may be interested in the Blogger's activities.

Essays include such topics as "Only ISAR 'Gets It' About Mandatory Spay/Neuter", "Free Speech and Cruelty to Animals", "Half a Loaf", "ISAR's International Homeless Animals' Day™ 2008", "ISAR's Model Mandatory Spay/Neuter Statute Garnering Attention", "UBS and Other Generous Matching Donations", "Important New Publication: Stanford Journal of Animal Law and Policy", "Annotated Text of ISAR's Model Mandatory Spay/Neuter Statute", "Websites Providing Information About Animal Law", "Overview of ISAR's Revolutionary Model Mandatory Spay/Neuter Statute", "The Case Against Zoos", "ISAR's Revolutionary Model Mandatory Spay/Neuter Statute", "Vive Brigitte Bardot", "ISAR's 'Harming Companion Animals' Monograph To Be Used In Law School 'Animal Law And Rights Course'", "ISAR and Animal Rights in Europe", "Harming Companion Animals: Liability and Damages", "Redemption: The Myth of Pet Overpopulation in America by Nathan J.
